

We now have total financial dependence on our members. These are difficult times for the station and we are completely beholden to our volunteers who are extending themselves beyond reasonable expectation. We specially thank those who worked so hard on our fundraiser. It was a marginal success and we will make it through the end of the year, barring the unexpected.

Please take a little time to think of some friends--or enemies, for that matter--who could be KRAB listeners and supporters. Without a budget for advertising, word of mouth boosts are crucial.

Volunteers of all kinds are needed. If you or anyone you know could help us in any way, please give us a call at 325-5110.

SKIP TO M'LOU

Sundays 9:00 AM

Libby presents the Seattle-produced children's radio classic, "McFidgin & Co.: The Return of the Rainwater Basket." Produced by Judith Walcutt and OTHERWORLD CHILDREN'S MEDIA with a grant from the Washington Commission for the Humanities.

11/7 PART 1 - Children Discover the Museum of Natural Curiosity, meet Mrs. McFidgin, overwhelm the Bogus Clan, and set off down the Passage of Time with Mr. Owhiskey.

11/14 PART 2 - Time-travelling children arrive in Old Seattle. It's June 6, 1889. Do you know what they find?

11/21 PART 3 - More helpers arrive at the museum. The talking card catalog talks--questions and answers about baskets of the Northwest.

11/28 PART 4 - Helpers find the Map Room. The cross-time tracking system locks in. The key is in Treaty Day--January 1854.

PARTS 5 & 6 in DECEMBER!

ENERGY DEVELOPMENT: LAKOTA NATION

Monday (11/8) 8:00 PM

The Black Hills of South Dakota have become the focal point of intense conflict over the past several years. The land has been targeted by major energy companies for widespread drilling and mining operations. Their efforts are supported by the U.S. government, which controls most of the land. But the U.S. government also signed the Fort Laramie Treaty of 1868, which guaranteed the Lakota Indian Nation ownership in perpetuity of the Black Hills, sacred grounds to the Indians. Here lies the conflict.

CARIBBEANA, HISTORY IN SOUND . . .

Monday (11/15) 8:00 PM

The program is hosted by Von Martin and written by Pat DiRubbo and award-winning producer Judi Moore Smith. Narration and music combine with on-location interviews with historians, musicians, Calypsonians, and writers--creating journeys to the Caribbean.

WOMEN IN THE POLITICAL PROCESS
